FALL'S RESIGNATION

Judge Albert B. Fall, who has for several months past filled the important position of attorney general of this territory very ably and satisfactorily, was compelled to resign the position, his entire time being demanded by his large and lucrative business as a lawyer and by his private business affairs which are very extensive. His law practice is constantly increasing and his position as counsellor and attorney for the huge railroad, mining and land enterprises of Colonel W. C. Greene allow him no time for other legal work. He found that he could not come to Santa Fe to attend to the duties of the attorney general of New Mexico as they should be attended to, as his presence was demanded daily and hourly either in El Paso or in Mexico or in New York City. Primarily he accepted the office not that he desired it, not that he was a candidate, not that its pay and emoluments were any attraction, but at the personal and urgent solicitation of his friend of twenty years standing, Governor George Curry. Judge Fall although he is absent from the territory a great deal of the time is a citizen of New Mexico and his legal residence is at the beautiful Three Rivers ranch in Otero county where he has a very handsome home and a valuable estate and where his family spends a great deal of time.--New Mexican.

Dr. J. G. Russell has just installed gasoline lights in the drugstore, making it with other late improvements, a very elegantly fitted place of business.

Knights Will Entertain

The order Knights of Pythias of this city will give a high class entertainment at the court house next Thursday night, the 19th instant. Lawrence McCarty who is now engaged instructing a senate for this lodge, and who has devoted the past sixteen year of his life to upbuilding of this noble order will give a monologue of the play Damon and Pythias which will last one hour, which alone will be worth double the charge of admission. He will be supported by a program of home talent that in the different rolls in which they are scheduled to appear that will be excellent in every respect. The Lodge here has been working under difficulties for the past year and Mr. McCarty graciously offers his services in this entertainment gratis and the News will say for this lodge that it most heartily appreciates his good offices in this effort, and that every individual connected in any way with the entertainment; that Knights of Pythias here will be always grateful to them. The price of admission will be 50 cents a chair. The proceeds will go to liquidate lodge indebtedness.
